About Round Rock

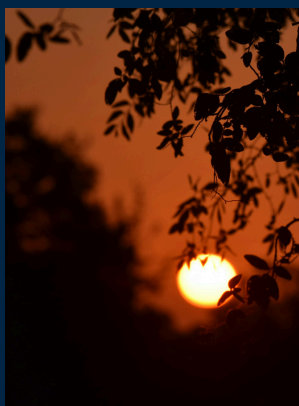

Round Rock, Texas, is located 15 miles north of Austin in the Central Texas Hill Country. Once it was a small stop along the International-Great Northern Railroad before booming into one of the fastest-growing cities in America. With a population of more than 130,000, Round Rock is ranked as the 29th largest City in Texas, according to Texas Demographic Center. As well as one of the fastest-growing regions in Texas and the country.

The City has maintained a high quality of life with industry clusters in Innovative Manufacturing, Life Sciences and Healthcare, Professional/Financial Services and Technology and Computing. Its combined property tax and utility rates are among the lowest in the region. It has an award-winning park system and school district and is ranked one of the safest cities in the United States.

Round Rock is also full of charm—award-winning neighborhoods, a lively downtown, great schools, and a great community. A trip wouldn't be complete without a treat at Round Rock Donuts, the famous western-themed bakery that has been serving guests since 1926. And if you are there between March and November, you can view the famous Round Rock bat colony take to the sky for their nightly meal near the I-35 overpass at McNeil Road.

Go Round Rock!
