About Bee Cave

Bee Cave, Texas is known for its upscale Hill Country charm, vibrant community atmosphere, and namesake roots tied to colonies of Mexican honeybees once found along Barton Creek and Little Barton Creek in western Travis County. Located just west of Austin alongside neighboring Lakeway, Bee Cave is part of the highly sought-after Lake Travis area, where the two communities share a seamless blend of scenic beauty, upscale living, outdoor recreation, and convenient access to Lake Travis. Rich in history, the idea of a place where residents could live apart from the influence of “big city” government has remained the area’s calling card for more than 140 years.

Home to the popular Hill Country Galleria, Bee Cave offers a premier destination for shopping, dining, entertainment, and community events. With its strong sense of community and balance of modern convenience and Hill Country tranquility, Bee Cave remains one of the area’s most desirable places to call home.
